Testing Week

The last week of April is Stanford testing week for our students. Your child's ability to perform their best this week is highly dependent upon adequate rest and nutrition. Please make sure your child has a healthy breakfast each morning and healthy snacks and lunch packed for the rest of the day. Also please note testing will begin PROMPTLY at 8:15AM every morning. If your child arrives late they will have to sit in the office until testing is over. Your student will be scheduled a makeup test day and there will be a $30 re-test fee per day that has to be made up. Family emergencies and doctor excuses will be the only exception to the re-test fee. In effort to keep a distraction free environment, students regardless of circumstance, will still not be permitted to class after 8:15AM.

Storybook Parade Day

To celebrate our month of reading, our preschool classes are hosting a story book parade day. On Friday, April 8th students will meet in the auditorium at 8:30AM. Parents, we invite you to attend. Please be practicing with your child how to say their story character's name and what book they are from. Your child will need to arrive by 8:15AM in their costume. If they need to change clothes after the parade is over, please stay and assist them. Otherwise, please make sure their costume is one that is bathroom friendly so they can wear it the entire day. REMINDER: Dress up characters are to be of a storybook nature, not a Disney princess or superhero. 😊
Please no scary costumes.

Virtual Art Show

Thursday, April 14th we will be emailing a link to our parents so you can view some of the art projects our students have done this year. The link will be sent out by 6PM that evening.

Spring Break

We will be out of school April 15th-22nd for spring break. Childcare is available April 18th-22nd for our students who are already registered in our afterschool program.

Preschool Registration is almost full!
